In Situ

In Situ is a performance platform that showcases five new short dance works by a range of emerging and experienced independent WA choreographers. In 2018, the season will be staged in the hidden corners of the old East Perth Girls School, resulting in a performance season that uniquely activates this historic infrastructure situated in the heart of Perth. A blend of sound, dance and architecture, the audience will go on a journey of discovery of a former inaccessible site in a new way.

Yoni ki Raat

Yoni ki Raat (YKR), is a transformative performance project by artists who identify as South Asian. The yoni (Sanskrit word for "vagina") has long been held sacred in Hindu mythology, but, through years of patriarchy and colonialism, it has rarely been allowed to speak its mind. This project is aimed at enabling women of South Asian heritage to share stories of sexuality, gender suppression and empowerment.
