Cutting Teeth

CircusWA's youth troupe, Sliders, will create a new work with Director Natano Fa'anana, from Casus Circus. This new work will explore the transition of youth to adult. During this transition, social pressures lurk as young people seek to form their own identity. On the journey they realise cultural norms are constructed and we all are a part of write cultural norms. In this show the youth attempt to become the makers of their future. But first they must cut their teeth.

SeeME (Administered for Claudia Alessi)

SeeME is a curated dance event diverse and intergenerational by design with artists chosen to develop and perform site specific works. These works will activate the Courtyard of the State Theatre Centre during the second week of the MoveME Festival 19-22 Sept. SeeME is a stand alone free event which invites audiences to stand and view short works on rotation performed prior to ticketed dance performances. SeeME is a conduit for audiences to be engaged with prior to entering the main theatres.

1st Stage Development of From the Outside In (CHANGESCAPES) as part of Ausdance Dance Artist in Residence, and in S.Korea at Seoul Dance Centre

I have been awarded one of the inaugural Ausdance WA Dance Artist in Residence space grants, to explore the framework for a new, technologically driven performance installation. I will continue this development in Korea at the Seoul Dance Centre Residency as the only invited Australian Artist for 2018/2019. I will be working with composer Alwyn Nixon-Lloyd & provocateur/moving sculptural developer Matt Cornell. This work is the next chapter in my international site-specific research project.

Stelarc

$11,024

'Stelarc: StickMan /miniStickMan' performance and exhibition at Perth Institute of Contemporary Arts (PICA) for Unhallowed Arts Festival 2018

StickMan is a minimal but full-body exoskeleton, that algorithmically actuates Stelarc's body with six degrees-of-freedom, remotely controlled by miniStickMan - a small replica of the exoskeleton that allows the audience control over the robot, and subsequently, Stelarc's living body in a live gallery performance. Sensors on StickMan generate sounds that augment the pneumatic noise and register the limb movements. A ring of speakers circulates the sounds, immersing the audience.

Fine Art Classical Training Florence

I hope to attend the Florence Classical Arts Academy in Italy. I will study in a one-year intensive course under the tutelage of experienced master artists. With this once in a life time opportunity, I hope to bring back the skills I learn in Florence to the wider WA community. In this way I see this as an investment in the future of WA fine art and the wider WA public.
